CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE

This is to certify that RSCC's Exane family of products has undergone testing to determine whether or not the products meet the requirements of NFPA 130 2010 for vehicles. The list of requirements for vehicle cables to meet NFPA 130 2010 and the products' results are summarized in Table 1.

Table 1 - NFPA 130 2010 List of Requirements

Section	Requirement Description	Result
8.7.6.1.1.1	All wires and cables shall comply with the FT4/IEEE 1202 exposure requirements for cable char height, total smoke released and peak smoke release rate of ANSI/UL 1685.	Pass

From the results listed in Table 1 it can be concluded that the Exane family of products meet the requirements of the NFPA 130 specification for vehicles.
